

Scott Fugate

ORANGEVILLE - After 71 years of life Scott Chadwick Fugate passed away at his home in Orangeville May 15, 2002.

Chad was born in Ferron on Oct. 11, 1930 where he spent his life until marrying Marilyn Cox Jan. 13, 1951.

Soon after marrying Marilyn, he was shipped out to serve his country and turned with combat honors from the Korean Conflict.

Following his service in the U.S. Army, he began raising his family in Kennewick, Wash. While there, he worked at the Hanford Nuclear Power Plant helping to advance nuclear medicine and science.

In 1971, he moved his family to Ferron and began working at the Des-Bee Dov mine.

Chad retired from Dugway Proving Grounds and moved into the Cox family home in Orangeville.

He and Marilyn served an LDS mission in Houston, Texas.

Chad enjoyed visiting with grandkids, working with wood, and often joked about burning his castoffs and mistakes in the old pot belly stove in his shop.

He is survived by wife, Marilyn (Cox), Chris Chadwick (Debbie) Fugate, Margaret Fugate Swasey, Ruth McCoard (Mark) Nelson, James Kon (Tish) Fugate, Scott Daniel (Stephanie) Fugate, and numerous beloved grandchildren and great-grandchildren. He follows his parents; Yukon and Maggie (Jensen) Fugate; brother, Vance Fugate; and sister, Virginia (Ginny Fugate) Magliocco in death.

His love, quick wit, and mischievous grin will be missed by friends and family too numerous to mention.

Services will be Tuesday, May 21, noon, at the Orangeville 1st LDS Ward Chapel. A visitation will be from 10:30 to 11:45 am. Interment will be in the Ferron Cemetery under the direction of Fausett Mortuary in Castle Dale.
